4. How to Request Access to Records

Requests for access to records held by Dylan Evans, Clinical Psychologist must be made on the request form that can be accessed from Dylan Evans, the practice website, or from:

https://www.justice.gov.za/forms/paia/J752_paia_Form%20C.pdf

When a record is requested, the following will apply:

- Fees may be payable as prescribed by law.
- The Request Form must be completed by the Requester. On the Request Form, all details must be completed, including the right the Requester wants to protect by requesting the information and why access to the information is required.
- If the requester is acting on behalf of someone else, the signature of the other person, as the one who has authorised the request, must be provided. In order to verify this, Dylan Evans may require further proof, such as an identity document, or may call the person(s) to whom the information belongs to verify that permission has been given for the other person to access the information on his/her/their behalf.
- The Requester must state in which format (inspection of copy, paper copy, electronic copy, transcript, and so on) that he/she/they wants to access the information.
- If the record is part of another record, the Requester will only be able to access the part(s) that pertains to the information he/she/they wants or is entitled to, and not to the rest of the record.

All requests will be evaluated against the provisions of the Act. The Information Officer can refuse access on grounds stipulated in the Act. For example, one cannot access another person's confidential information, or trade or commercial secrets of a business. An answer on a request for information must be provided within 30 days of the request and, if not granted and the Requester is not satisfied, he/she/they can approach the courts within 30 days.

5. Voluntary Disclosure

The following information is made known automatically and persons do not have to fill out a form to request such information:

- Documents and information on website
- Fees
- General practice terms and policies as well as policies pertaining to attendance and payment
- Informed consent forms

6. Categories of Records Held by the Practitioner: Section 51(I)(E)

Dylan Evans, Clinical Psychologist holds records in the categories listed below. The fact that a record type is listed here does not necessarily mean she will disclose such records, and all access is subject to the evaluation process outlined herein, which will be exercised in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

It must be noted that, in the health sector, personal and patient information are protected by legislation and ethical rules, and disclosure can only take place, if at all, within those frameworks.

7. Purpose of the Processing of the Above-mentioned Records

The purpose of processing the information contained in the records listed above is:

- In relation to the business/internal records: To comply with business and tax legislation.
- In relation to patients: For retention of records as required by law and to provide healthcare services, to access health products (prescriptions and product orders), and for the collection of fees for the services so provided. Where the practice participates in registries or other databases, the specific consents signed by patients to have their information included will disclose the purpose of such databases.
- In relation to the suppliers and service providers: For record retention as legislated and for the execution of the supplier and service level agreements.

8. Records Available in Terms of Other Legislation

Information is available in terms of the following legislation, subject to conditions set by such laws. As legislation changes from time to time, and new laws may stipulate new matters and extend the scope of access by persons specified in such entities, this list should be read as not being a final and complete list.

Health legislation (including all regulations issued in terms of such legislation):

- The National Health Act 61 of 2003
- Medical Schemes Act 121 of 1998
- Medicines and Related Substances Act 101 of 1965
- Children's Act 38 of 2005
- Mental Healthcare Act 17 of 2002
- Choice on Termination of Pregnancy Act 92 of 1996
- Sterilisation Act 44 of 1998
- Health Professions Act 56 of 1974

9. Categories of Recipients of Personal Information

Dylan Evans may, as authorised by the National Health Act, share relevant personal and health information with other service providers who are involved in your care and where such sharing is in your best interest, and to medical schemes, where applicable.

10. Planned Trans-Border Flow of Personal Information

Dylan Evans does not have any planned trans-border flow of personal information. However, he may transfer data trans-border in order to store data with third party cloud storage providers.

11. The Suitability of the Information Security Measures

The practice stores information physically as follows:

- The practice aims to keep physical records to a minimum. All physical documents are scanned and saved in electronic format.
- Handwritten notes made during sessions are converted into electronic records, which are password protected.
 - Dylan Evans aims to avoid writing down any identifying information on in-session handwritten notes. After converting the notes to electronic versions, the physical, handwritten notes are destroyed according to industry guidelines or standards (e.g., shredding).
- Dylan Evans's office is locked when not in use.
- The practice premises are kept locked when not in use. The office suite is secured by a locked door and metal security gate.

The practice stores information electronically as follows:

- Electronic records containing identifying and/or personal patient information are password-protected and stored on a password-protected desktop. The software on the laptop is regularly updated to protect against hacking, unauthorised access, tampering, and the like.
- Electronic records are backed up to a third-party cloud storage provider on a password-protected account.
- The practice's email account is password protected and is accessed through either a desktop or mobile phone, both of which are either password-protected.

• Dylan Evans employs up-to-date technology to ensure the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of the personal information under her care. Measures include:

- Firewalls
- Virus protection software and update protocols
- Logical and physical access control
- Secure setup of hardware and software making up the IT infrastructure

Other security measures employed to secure patient information and records:

- Where possible, Dylan Evans makes use of a patient number and/or initial system to label electronic records of patient information, as well as to schedule appointments in his diary.
- Dylan Evans takes reasonable measures to ensure the security and confidentiality of physical and electronic records, as well as the mobile phone and laptop used for practice purposes, including:
 - Being aware of who is around him when he accesses or uses patient documents and answers communications from patients,
 - Shielding the electronic copy and/or hard copy of personal records information from the sight of others, or otherwise refrains from accessing records until he can effectively shield patient information from sight,
 - Only accessing electronic records via secure and password-protected WIFI connections.
 - Locking the device when the laptop and mobile phone are not in use.

Any breaches to the integrity or security of patients' confidential information (e.g., damage or theft) will be communicated with the relevant patient(s) as soon as possible.

12. Retention of Patient Records

In accordance with Booklet 9 of the HPCSA, Guidelines on the Keeping of Patient Records, patient records are kept for a minimum period of six (6) years as from the date they become dormant, except where:

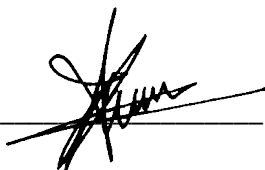

- "The patient is a minor, in which case records will be kept until the minor's twenty-first birthday, or
- The patient is mentally incompetent, in which case records are kept for the duration of the patient's lifetime." (Section 9.3)

Any other exceptions to the minimum period of 6 years laid out in Booklet 9, Section 9: Duration for the Retention of Health Records, including any future amendments made by the HPCSA to this document, will be adhered to.

13. Destruction of Private and Confidential Records

In relation to destroying patient records, Dylan Evans makes use of industry guidelines and standards and/or will act according to directions and guidelines provided by the HPCSA.
